

FISHING

Save Our Fishermen

The EU is simply not interested in sustainable British fishing

"By the time Trevor sells the two boxes of whelks he's caught today, he will make the grand sum of about £45, before costs such as fuel for his boat. EU quotas mean he's not allowed to catch anything else. This is how utterly ridiculous the Common Fisheries Policy is: it is destroying our fishing industry and we must take back control from Brussels."

RAY FINCH MEP

Fisheries Spokesman