

FARMING AND THE COUNTRYSIDE

"Farmers like myself have everything to gain by leaving the EU. UKIP has sound policies that will put British farmers first, promote high standards in animal husbandry and help secure a vibrant, thriving agriculture sector for Britain"

STUART AGNEW MEP
Agriculture Spokesman

Backing British Farmers

Farming is vital to Britain, especially now, when we have more mouths to feed than ever before. Our food security, our economy, our relationship with the countryside, how we protect our environment: all these issues are linked intrinsically to farming.
